This villain received a salary of 200 crores

Top tier heroes in Indian cinema often fetch Rs 100 crores. However, only a few have reached the figure of 200 crores. However, it is very rare for a villain to be paid more than a hero. Such a precedent has not been seen before in the history of Indian cinema

Top tier heroes in Indian cinema often fetch Rs 100 crores. However, only a few have reached the figure of 200 crores. However, it is very rare for a villain to be paid more than a hero. Such a precedent has not been seen before in the history of Indian cinema.

But this time Kannada superstar Yash made the impossible possible.

Yash, who gained popularity across India with the series 'KGF', recently played the role of Ravana in Nitish Tiwari's 'Ramayan'. Ranbir Kapoor is playing the role of Ram in the film. In addition to acting in this film, Yash is also a co-producer, and that's why he earned more than Rs. 200 crores through acting fee and distribution share

In these statistics, Josh has left many first -row stars. For example, senior actor Kamal Hassan has earned Tk 20-5 crore in recent times by playing the camera. Shah Rukh Khan, who charged Rs 200 crore for Jawawan, has also charged around Rs 150 crore for most movies in the past. Salman Khan and Aamir Khan have also not received more than Rs 150 crore for their best films in the past few years.

Even among the Southern superstars, Prabhas, who receives a fee of 120-5 crore, has not yet touched the milestone of 20 crore