To accelerate preparations for the upcoming national elections, the Election Commission (EC) has introduced new transfers in the field-level administrative structure. A total of 23 officials serving at the upazila level have been reassigned. This information was disclosed in a notification signed by Mohammad Shahidur Rahman, Assistant Secretary of the EC's Personnel Management Branch, on Saturday (November 8).

The notification states that 21 election officers and 2 upazila election officers have been transferred to different locations. The order, issued in the public interest, will take immediate effect.

According to EC sources, the commission is intensifying preparations at the field level with the aim of announcing the schedule in the first half of December and holding the polls in the first half of February. As part of this effort, continuous changes are being made in the field administration.

EC officials have indicated that over a hundred officials have already been transferred to ensure smooth electoral activities. The main objective of this new step is to ensure efficiency and coordination within the field administration.
