Strait of Hormuz will remain uncertain if Iran conflict drags on: China

Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi. Photo: Reuters

China has warned that stability will not return to the Strait of Hormuz if the ongoing conflict involving Iran continues to escalate. Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi made the remarks during a meeting with Saudi Foreign Minister Faisal bin Farhan Al Saud.

Wang Yi said the war centered around Iran has created a serious disruption in this vital maritime route. He added that the longer the conflict continues, the more unstable the situation in the strait will remain. He also stressed the urgent need for a ceasefire.

Source: Al Jazeera

LENS ASIA