BNP on the Path to a Broad Electoral Alliance: Salahuddin Ahmed

Collected picture

BNP is planning to form a broad electoral alliance ahead of the upcoming national election, said the party's Standing Committee member Salahuddin Ahmed. He stated that initiatives are underway to build a united front comprising political parties involved in the anti-fascist movement.

Speaking to reporters on Monday (October 27), after paying tribute at the grave of BNP's founder and former President Ziaur Rahman on the occasion of the 47th founding anniversary of Jatiyatabadi Jubo Dal, Salahuddin Ahmed made these remarks.

He said, "Preserving national unity and fostering youth-driven leadership are now BNP's key commitments. The young generation must be actively engaged in politics so they can contribute to the country's development with transparency, critical thinking, and a sense of responsibility."

He further mentioned that discussions are ongoing with competent and people-oriented candidates for constituency-based nominations ahead of the election. He called for maintaining party unity and discipline throughout the nomination process.

The BNP leader added, "In the upcoming national election, merit and public trust will be prioritized over mere party identity. We want to build a new Bangladesh through elected representatives—one that upholds democracy, justice, and the growth of young leadership."